HEPBURN ACT IS UPHELD

New Construction Placed Upon Commodities Clause.

POINTS FOR THE RAILROADS

Under Decision of United States Supreme Court Anthracite Roads May Transport Coal If Sold to Somebody Else—May Hold Stock In Coal Companies.

Washington, May 4.—It has been many a day since a decision of the supreme court of the United States has been received with so much interest as was manifested in the decision of that court in what are known as the "commodities clause" cases, affecting the anthracite coal carrying railroads. These cases had been decided by the United States circuit court for the eastern district of Pennsylvania favorably to the railroads in that the clause of the Hepburn rate law, which prohibits interstate railroads from carrying commodities manufactured, mined or produced directly or indirectly by the roads, was declared unconstitutional, and the general impression had been that the decision would be affirmed by the supreme court. When, therefore, there was a reversal instead of an affirmation, the interest was much magnified. When again it was found that the reversal was based on technical grounds and that the effect was really favorable to the railroads, sentiment took another turn, and those who had been anxiously awaiting the announcement of the result found themselves much puzzled.

Justice White's Decision.

Analyzed, Justice White's decision is that congress did not transcend its constitutional authority in the enactment of the commodities provision, but on the other hand it was held that the government's construction of the provision had been entirely too comprehensive. As construed by the court, the sole object of the clause is to prevent carriers from being associated in interest with the commodities transported at the time of transportation, hence that the law only prohibits the transportation of articles when they have been produced by a railway company, which has not in good faith parted with them, when the company owns or controls, the commodity to be transported, and when the company has an interest direct or indirect in the commodity in a legal sense. It was especially held, however, that the prohibition does not apply to the ownership of stock in a producing company, but that a carrier may own stock in such a company and at the same time transport the product of that company.

Railroads Can Evade the Law.

Summed up, the act only compels companies to disassociate themselves from the products they carry. It thus appears, first, that the commodities clause is a vital and operative statute with respect to all products, such as coal, which the railroad companies actually own at the time of transportation, and that the railroads must sell such products to somebody else before they can lawfully ship them, and second, that unless the act is promptly amended so as to include stock ownership, the railroads can escape the law entirely by converting their direct ownership of coal properties into stock ownership by the organization of subsidiary coal companies.

The effect of the decision under existing conditions is favorable to the railroads and the government lost on practically all points except in the sustentation of the principle involved.

Rebate Decision Reversed.

San Francisco, May 4.—The United States circuit court of appeals here handed down a decision reversing the decision of the district court in the case in which the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe Railroad company was found guilty of granting rebates and sentenced to pay fines amounting to $330,000.

POPOCATERPILLAR VII.

The Penn State Thespians Greatly Pleased a Good Audience.

The Thespians appeared at Garman's Opera house Thursday night and highly pleased a large and select audience with one of the very best productions they have ever put on the boards and they all deserve great credit for the training that was shown and the way the play was conducted all through. The play was entirely different from anything they had ever attempted in that line before and we certainly trust they will confine themselves to those lines of musical comedy in the future.

It was too bad the play was not better advertised as it certainly deserved a packed house instead of being only partly full and an empty gallery. It was a show that would have even been enjoyed by the most exacting of that famous organization known as the Gallery Gods.

The play consisted of three acts all well filled with musical numbers and good ones too. The plot was rambling, all that was desired being something to exhibit the fine dancing and singing that was constantly taking place all through the performance. To speak specifically of any one of the players would be an injustice to the others for they all did very well from chorus girl to king.

But mention must be made of the fine singing of Armstrong, as the King's daughter, in particular, he having a very sweet voice with plenty of volume and sang with the greatest ease considering the fact of being laced to a frazzle with corsets, and by the way, it is a wonder how those chorus girls were so supple laced as they all had to be and a real good looking set they made, looked nearly real. Childs as the king and Henry as Monte the prime minister handled their parts very well as did Piolet and Foster the young American adventurers.

It is too bad they had not a little better stage settings and would have been better also had the stage been washed up a little as the dust raised during the dancing was very disagreeable but that is not the fault of the Thespians.

The training shown by the dancing of the chorus which was so very good as though it had been a year instead of a few weeks and the fine chorus singing was somewhat of a revelation of what a lot of College boys can do when they buckle down to it.

This review should not close without mention of the fine music by a full College orchestra that would have done credit to any Opera House or show of much larger pretensions. Their accompaniment of the songs as well as the music between the acts were all good and well rendered and pleased the audience.

The Uncle Tom's Cabin skit at the finish of the last act was extremely funny and well put on and kept an audience in howls of laughter for ten minutes without a break and was well worthy of the best of actors. We trust the Thespians will have something similar next year and we will promise them a better house than this by far.

HAINS' MOTHER ON THE STAND

Aged Woman Collapsed While Telling Her Story.

A MOST PATHETIC INCIDENT

She Broke Down During Her Direct Examination and When District Attorney Started His Cross Examination She Sank Into Chair and Sobbed Bitterly.

Flushing, N. Y., May 5.—Mrs. Virginia Jenkins Hains, mother of the defendant, concluded her testimony after a trying and pathetic ordeal in an effort to save her son, Peter C. Hains, Jr., on trial for the murder of William E. Annis. Now that father, mother and two brothers of Captain Hains have testified the trial will soon reach the "alienist stage." The defense has but two more lay witnesses to examine, and as this will be done today the five alienists retained to show that the young army officer is insane will probably testify tomorrow.

Feeble and on the verge of nervous collapse, the testimony of Mrs. Hains, who is sixty-nine years old, her references to "her boy" and her pleading to be allowed to tell "everything she knew," made the most dramatic incident of the trial so far. She broke down and sobbed convulsively throughout her direct examination by John F. McIntyre, chief counsel for the defense, and when District Attorney Dewitt started his cross examination the strain proved too much for her mother's heart. She sank into the witness chair and, covering her face with her handkerchief, sobbed bitterly. At this point Mr. Dewitt promptly announced that he had concluded the cross examination, and the old lady was taken from the courtroom.

Describing her son's general condition during the Washington visit, Mrs. Hains said he suffered from long periods of depression, followed by violent outbursts and confused exclamations.

"He would sit for hours in his chair, staring into vacancy," the witness said, "and then suddenly jump up and exclaim 'No one knows how I have suffered.' At other times he would suddenly break out with the exclamation: 'Oh, let's forget it; let's forget it.'"

The hypothetical question in regard to Captain Hains' sanity, which will be submitted to the alienists, contains 10,000 words and will require an hour and a half in reading.

A number of witnesses were called before Mrs. Hains took the stand. The substance of their testimony was to show the alleged irrationality of the defendant, as they saw it, previous to the time he shot and killed Annis.

Baney—Lamb.

The genial and ever smiling and obliging clerk at Yeager's shoe store Wilbur Baney Wednesday night surprised his many friends by going quietly and getting doubled up in a very effectual manner and his troubles will only begin, but we trust his smile will not fade as the troubles begin to arrive in future years, the walking of the floor to wear his employers shoe leather out, and the demand for the soft leather for the same purpose but on much smaller sizes, but will remain as genial as ever.

The wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lamb, on north Allegheny street, Wednesday evening when their daughter Miss Julia A. Lamb, became the bride of Wilbury F. Baney Only the members of the two families and a few specially invited guests were present to witness the ceremony which took place at twenty minutes past eight o'clock and was performed by Rev. John Hewitt, of the Episcopal church. The young couple were attended by Miss Florence Lamb, as bridesmaid and Richard Brouse as best man. Following the wedding a delicious wedding supper was served after which Mr. and Mrs. Baney were driven to their own home on east Lamb street which the bridegroom had already furnished for the reception of his bride.

The bride is a dressmaker by trade and is a popular young lady. The bridegroom is head clerk in Yeager's shoe store and is a sober, industrious young man. May they have a long life of unbroken happiness and prosperity.

50 Years a Justice of the Peace

We noticed in town Monday Squire John H. Lever, of Stormstown, hale and hearty, having just celebrated his 81st milestone in life's journey. Squire Lever was in town Monday on business of importance, and was sworn in by Recorder Brown for his 11th term as Justice of the Peace of Half Moon township. Fifty years a Justice of the Peace is Squire Lever's record and in all that time not a decision of his was reversed by the higher courts above. Squire Lever is as spry as a man of fifty and bids fair to live many years yet.

INCOME TAX AID TO RENT PAYERS

Senator Root Admits It Could Not Be Shifted.

HOW PROPERTY IS TAXED

New Yorker Shows by Statistics That Tax on Real Estate Is Equivalent to an Income Tax of Fifteen Per Cent. Senator Bailey Condemns a Tax on Occupation.

Washington, May 5.—In the senate, during the debate on the proposed income tax, Mr. Root submitted statistics to show the extent to which the wealth of the country is now taxed by states, counties and municipalities.

"It is not a fact," said Mr. Root, "that in this republic property does not bear a very great proportion of the burden of taxation."

He gave figures to show that the ad valorem taxes levied upon property are at the rate of about three-quarters of 1 per cent, which, he said, would be equivalent to an income tax of 15 per cent.

He said that in New York state real estate does not yield a net income of more than 3½ to 4 per cent, so that he regarded this tax as very considerable.

"Who, at last, pays this real estate tax—the real estate owner or the renter?" asked Mr. Borah.

Mr. Root replied that it was imposed upon the property and paid by it in spite of any analysis that might be made as to where it came from.

"But if the income tax existed," interposed Mr. Borah, "it would catch a part of the tax that is shifted to the renter, would it not?"

"Yes; oh, yes," responded Mr. Root.

While he said he was not arguing against an income tax, Mr. Root begged senators to remember "that the property of the United States now bears a tax for the support of government in the United States equal to nearly eight times the income tax that they are proposing to assess upon it."

While challenging Mr. Root to find anything in his remarks to the effect that the property of the United States did not pay a tax, Mr. Bailey asserted that property did not even approximately contribute according to its value to the support of the federal government. He declared that a tax on an occupation could not be defended in any forum in the world of conscience and common sense. It was his firm conviction, he said, that wealth ought to bear the tax. "It is a monstrous injustice," he insisted, "for a man after being compelled to wear a suit of clothes to tax him for buying it. I think it is not right that obedience to God's law, a law which made us hungry, should compel us to appease our appetites and yet be charged for the things which keep body and soul together."

FIFTH REGIMENT WINS LAURELS

Col. Hugh S. Taylor to be Highly Complimented.

The report of the inspection of the Second Brigade of the National Guard of Pennsylvania held during the months of January, February and March, has been filed in the Inspection General's office in Harrisburg. It is with considerable military pride that we are able to state that the 5th Regiment, of which Hugh S. Taylor, of Bellefonte, is colonel, gets the highest regimental average in the brigade. Its headquarters organizations get the extremely high rating of 98.64, and its lowest company the comparatively high mark of 83.73. This rating places another star in the military crown of Colonel Taylor who has developed into one of the most expert disciplinarians in the State. He has some strong competitors among the other regiments in the brigade which makes the present showing all the more creditable. When he was captain of Company B, he always took great pride in averaging the company as near the top as possible, and on several occasions Co. B led the companies of the brigade which, of course, was a high honor. Bellefonte, during the Civil war, sent a number, of gentlemen to the front who returned with distinguished titles and the fame just ascribed to Colonel Taylor shows that true military spirit is still manifest in a large degree in her sons.

The other regimental officers are as follows; Lt. Col., George W. Crede, Jr., Blairsville; Maj., John C. Dunkle, Huntingdon; Maj., Harry W. Fee, Indiana; Captain and Adjutant, Robert F. Hunter, Bellefonte; Captain and Quartermaster, Richard W. Watson, Indiana; Captain and Commissary, Melvin J. Locke, Bellefonte; Captain and I. R. P., Wm. G. Keed, Blairsville; Captain and Chaplain, John V. Royer, Altoona; 1st Lt. and Batt. Adjt. Jos. H. Butler, Altoona; 1st Lt. and Batt. Adj., Jas. R. McCoy, Lewistown; Maj. and Surg., R. G. H. Hayes, Bellefonte, 1st Lt. and Asst. Surg., F. B. Statler, Johnstown; 1st Lt. and Asst. Surg., John I. Robison, State College. The non-commissioned staff as follows: Regt. Sergt. Maj., Claude W. Smith; Regt. Quarter-master, Sergt., Thomas B. Beaver; Regt. Commissary Sergt., H. Laird Curtin; Regt. Color Sergt., H. E. Anderson, Indiana; Regt. Color Sergt., James R. Hughes, Bellefonte; Chief Musician, Frank D. Leopold, Clearfield; Batt. Sergt. Maj., John P. Bair, Huntingdon; Batt. Sergt. Maj., Lemuel Poorman, Bellefonte.

It might be added that Company B, of Bellefonte, of which Philip F. Garbrick is captain and Edward R. Taylor and William Allen are lieutenants, also made a commendable showing. For efficiency the boys received 92.13; attendance 100 and general average was 98.13. This is a rating of which our soldier boys can feel proud.

Death of A. W. S. Schenck.

A very sad death indeed was that of Ammon W. S. Schenck, a young man just on the threshold of manhood, who passed away at his home in Howard township, Friday at 3 a. m. The cause of death was an abscess on the brain. He had been ill about ten days during which time he suffered untold agony.

Ammon William Swengle Schenck was born at Howard Feb. 14, 1887 making his age at time of death just 22 years, 2 months and 16 days. He was the son of Ralph and Emeline Schenck. He was a member of the Patriotic Order Sons of America and was a very popular young man with a bright future before him.

He is survived by his father, (his mother having died several years ago) and the following brothers and sisters, Sylvester E., of Wilmerding; Mrs. F. M. Pletcher, of Blanchard; Alonzo E., Oscar L., Otto B., Florence G., of Howard.

The funeral services were held on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of his parents. The services were conducted by Rev. Taylor. The P. O. S. of A., attended the services in a body and conducted the services at the grave. The interment was made in the Schenck cemetery.

Superior Court Decisions.

The Superior court of Pennsylvania has decided that ordinary treating by a candidate is not in violation of the corrupt practice act. Judge Head affirms the ruling of Judge Stables, of Monroe, in the Kinney election case.

Kinney is Monroe county's present representative at Harrisburg, and the case has been pending for a year. Auditor Britain in his report found that there had been no violation of the statute and that Kinney had not acted any differently toward voters than he had during the campaign prior to the time he became a candidate for the legislature.

MINERS ACCEPT OLD AGREEMENT

Convention Authorizes Representatives to Sign It.

THE VOTE WAS UNANIMOUS

The Agreement is Identical With the One Signed Three Years Ago, With Several Additional Conditions—Recognition of the Union Waived.

Scranton, Pa., April 29.—After weeks of consideration and much conferring, the final stage in the work of settling the differences existing between the anthracite mine workers and their employes has been reached. The tri-district convention of the union miners in the courthouse here unanimously approved the three year agreement reached by their representatives with the operators and authorized them to sign it in Philadelphia. The agreement is identical with the one signed three years ago in New York, with the following additional conditions which the operators have conceded the men:

New Terms In Agreement.

"The rate which shall be paid for new work shall not be less than the rates paid under the strike commission's award for old work of a similar kind or character.

"The arrangement and decisons of the conciliation board permitting the collection of dues on the company property and the posting of notices thereon shall continue during the life of this agreement.

"Any employe discharged for being a member of a union shall have a right to appeal his case to the conciliation board for final adjustment.

"Any dispute arising at a colliery under the terms of this agreement must first be taken up with the mine foreman and superintendent by a committee of employes directly interested before it can be taken up with the conciliation board for final adjustment.

"Employers shall issue pay statements designing the name of the company, the name of the employe, the colliery where employed, the amount of wages and the class of work performed."

Miners Waived Recognition.

The United Mine Workers Union, under the agreement, is not officially recognized, the miners having waived this demand. The agreement will be signed by the members of the miner's committee of seven, without any official reference to the organization. They will sign it simply "on behalf of the representatives of the anthracite mine workers," as they did in New York three years ago. The employers' committee of seven will sign it "on behalf of the anthracite operators."

Owing to the death of a brother of National President Lewis, the miners' leader was unable to preside at the sessions of the convention, his place being taken by National Vice-President E. S. McCullough.

The convention was harmonious. While there were differences of opinion on some matters, and many of the delegates were anxious to tell their grievances before the agreement was adopted, they were all unanimous for the proposition when the final vote was taken.

CHARLES N. FOWLER.

of a tariff commission. He urged further that provision should be made in the tariff bill now pending for the establishment of such a tribunal.

"It is a source of satisfaction," he said, "that the country has at last become aroused to the advantage of the establishment of a tariff commission composed of business men of experience and high standing. If they will only strike hard at this juncture it is certain that one of the features of the tariff bill of 1909 will be a provision for a commission of this kind.

"Everlasting tariff tinkering, based upon political pull, should cease with the passage of the pending bill."

THE CHURCH SHOULD LEAD

Religious Liberals Say Denominations Should Unite to Promote Reforms.

Philadelphia, April 30.—"While organic union between religious denominations is at present unattainable, cooperation between them should be actively promoted; so that in every community the churches may unite to improve those social, political and economic conditions which make it easy to do wrong and difficult to do right." This resolution, introduced by Dr. O. Edward Janney, of Baltimore, was adopted by the National Federation of Religious Liberals at their meeting here, following the receipt of a telegram from President Eliot, of Harvard university, urging them to take some definite action and not spend all the time in talk.

John Mitchell, former president of the United Mine Workers of America, was one of the speakers at the sessions of the congress. He declared that the great moral lessons taught by the founder of the Christian church find tangible expression in the principles and practices of the wisely governed modern labor organization.

Foreman Kills Leader of Strike.

Fishkill, N. Y., April 30.—Violence which had marked the strike of brick makers in the yards along the Hudson river culminated in a murder. COAL COMMITTEES SIGN AGREEMENT

Miners and Operators Close Deal For Peace.

NO STRIKE FOR THREE YEARS

On Motion of L. F. Loree, of the Delaware & Hudson Company, a Message of Sympathy Was Sent to T. L. Lewis on the Death of His Brother.

Philadelphia, April 30.—Peace between the mine workers and operators in the anthracite coal regions of Pennsylvania is assured for another period of three years. The agreement continuing in force until March 31, 1912, the awards of the anthracite coal strike commission was signed in the board room of the Reading company by the committee of seven on behalf of the mine owners and a similar committee representing the workers. With the exception of five added stipulations suggested by the miners, the agreement is identical with the one signed in New York three years ago. The mine workers' union is not officially recognized, the members of the miners' committee simply signing the agreement "on behalf of the representatives of the anthracite mine workers." The conference was a harmonious affair and ended with "everybody happy," as one of the committeemen expressed it.

Before proceeding to the signing of the agreement a resolution offered by L. F. Loree, president of the Delaware & Hudson company, was unanimously passed, directing the secretaries of the conference to send a message of sympathy to T. L. Lewis, national president of the miners' union, on the death of his brother.

Following the conference, E. S. McCullough, national vice president of the union, who represented Mr. Lewis, said the concessions made by the operators were not as great in pecuniary value as they were in moral effect. The agreement shows, he said, that the anthracite operators and mine workers have a better understanding of one another.

SHOOTS THROUGH WINDOWS

Washington, April 30.—In a speech on the tariff bill Senator Rayner, of Maryland, said free trade is impracticable in this country and that no Democrat would vote for it if he could. He denounced the Payne-Aldrich measure as one that would fail to produce revenue enough, and would protect industries controlled by trusts rather than give any relief to consumers.

The trial of Mrs. Boyle, set for May 4, was continued until the day following the trial of Boyle. The postponement was asked on the ground that the original information against Boyle had disappeared and could not be found.

Boyle collapsed in the Mercer jail and is said to be in a critical condition. Dr. M. A. Goffin, the jail physician, is in constant attendance upon him. Boyle's system has been weakened by inability to hold anything upon his stomach, and the postponement of his trial had a bad effect.

BLACK HAND'S WORK KILLS NINE IN FIRE

Flames In Oil Soaked Tenement Caused Panic.

New York, May 1.—Nine persons, six of them children, were burned to death and fourteen others were injured, some of them fatally, in an incendiary fire in a five-story tenement house at 37 Spring street, occupied by twenty Italian families.

The blaze followed a demand by members of a so-called Black Hand society for the payment of $1000 blackmail. The flames spread through the building with startling rapidity, as the hallways were soaked with kerosene oil by the blackmailers.

Jacob Bruck, the proprietor of a grocery store on the main floor of the building, received on April 18 a letter reading:

"We demand $1000 or death. Bring it to Mott street. Petrosino is dead, but the Black Hand lives."

The alarm of fire was given by the firing of a volley of revolver shots from the windows of the burning building. Policemen who responded burst in the main door and found the hallway saturated with kerosene and blazing fiercely. Two half-emptied kerosene cans were on the stairs. The frightened tenants fled to the roof or thronged the fire escapes in the rear, which were clogged with obstructions

WILL BRING END TO MASSACRES

Turkish Troops Being Hurried to Affected Districts.

250 PRISONERS EXECUTED

Young Turks Lose No Time In Bringing Conspirators In Recent Uprising to Trial—New Sultan to Take Oath Within a Week.

Constantinople, April 30.—A welcome message was received from the town of Hadjin, in the province of Adana, where five American women missionaries have been alone with thousands of refugees who sought safety there from bands of Moslems seeking to put them to the sword. Hadjin has withstood a siege for the past eight days and the missionaries have been sending out frantic appeals for help. A message reached here from Miss Lambert, the daughter of Bishop Lambert, which said:

"With the arrival of the troops, the disorders in and about the city have ceased, and we are all safe and well."

The Turkish cabinet has taken up the consideration of the situation in Adana and neighboring districts. The new governor general, Mustafa Zihni, is due to arrive at the town of Adana today. He has been instructed to take the most energetic measures to reestablish order and to relieve the sufferers.

Adil Bey, permanent under secretary of state in the ministry of the interior, said that the government would make a searching investigation into the cause of the disorders and punish the instigators. Reports received at the ministry of the interior indicated that quiet now prevailed everywhere.

250 Prisoners Shot.

The Constitutionalists have lost no time in bringing the conspirators in the recent rising to trial. The military court, sitting in the war office, condemned about 250 prisoners to death, and they were executed. Nadir Pasha, the second eunuch of the palace, was hanged at dawn on the Galata bridge, and his great body was viewed by thousands.

The national assembly decided that Sultan Mehmed V. should take the oath of the constitution within a week. The assembly also ratified the deportation of Abdul Hamid to Saloniki.

It is alleged that the chief authors of the recent mutiny were Abdul Hamid's favorite son, Prince Mehmed Burhan Eddine, Rear Admiral Said Pasha, son of Kiamil Pasha, the former grand vizier, and Nadir Pasha, who were engaged for a long time prior to the rising in corrupting the troops. The two former have fled.

Excellent Time Record Made on the Pennsy.

Ninety-five per cent. of the 8,764 trains operated on the Western Pennsylvania Division of the Pennsylvania Railroad in March arrived at their destinations "on time," according to a report issued today by the General Superintendent at Pittsburgh.

Of the total number of trains operated on this division in March, 8,538 or 98 per cent., made schedule time, though 252 of these trains did not arrive on time. Two hundred and twenty-six trains, or about three per cent of the total, lost time.

These records derive added significance from the fact that 5,421, or 65 per cent of all the trains operated on the Western Pennsylvania Division in March ran over the Pittsburg Division, which has the heaviest grades on the Pennsylvania System, and 92 per cent of these trains were on time. The Conemaugh Division operated 2,442 trains and had 99 per cent of them on time, while the Monongahela Division had 95 per cent of its 101 trains on time.

A Ban to be Placed on Frauds.

A bill introduced at Washington by Representative Condrey, of Missouri, makes it a misdemeanor for anyone to make any fraudulent representations in an advertisement, such as "bankrupt," "damaged goods" and "fire sales," when the goods offered for sale are not a part of a damaged or bankrupt stock. The bill is wide in its scope. It resembles the pure food law in that it requires advertisements of all goods to state precisely the materials contained in the goods.

Advertisements of claims of superior professional skill or containing offers of "no cure, no pay;" "money back if not cured," or "contract of cure" offered, or false statements of any kind, come under the prohibitions of the bill, as do those containing fictitious testimonials.

Violations are punishable by a fine of not less than $100. Each day's continuance of the publication of such an advertisement is constituted a separate offence.

Biddy was Disgusted.

When John Lenahan, of Thompkinsville, S. C., went out to his hennery the other morning he saw his pet red hen running around in circles and making noises that plainly indicated extreme surprise and disgust. Lenahan recently bought some eggs of Henry Conrad Schweikert and gave them to the red hen to sit on, and suspecting that some of them must have been Easter eggs Lenahan went out to investigate.

He found that several of the eggs had hatched out and from one had come a strange creature with the body of a chicken and four legs. The bird or beast seemed to realize that it owed a debt of gratitude to the red hen and galloped after her around the yard evidently bent on fulfilling the obligation. Lenahan's favorite fowl raised her wings and fairly flew over the ground to escape the newcomer, and it was not until Lenahan captured the four-legged freak that the old red hen would consent to mother the other chicks of her brood.

He Is a Slick One.

A fellow named Barry Wahob came to Huntingdon several weeks ago, stating that he had formerly been with the Berwind-White people as a coal prospector, but was then operating drills for himself. While in town he stayed at the Brunswick hotel, telling the proprietor that he was waiting for two diamond drills with which he expected to prospect for coal in Oneida township. His board bill and borrowed money with H. D. Taylor amounted to $45. To allay suspicion of his being a crook, he ordered 2000 feet of lumber from Joseph Rinker. In the course of his stay he borrowed $2.50 and a watch from Wm. Warfel. He absconded on March 31 and on Friday, notices having been issued throughout the state for his detention he was arrested by constable Moore, of Clearfield, and brought to the Huntingdon jail.

ROOSEVELT PARTY BAGS FOUR LIONS

Ex-President Kills Three and Kermit One.

FATHER AND SON JUBILANT

Such a Kill on First Hunt For King of Jungle Was Far Beyond Their Expectations — No Fewer Than Ten Kinds of Game Taken.

Nairobi, British East Africa, May 3.—Four lions are trophies of ex-President Roosevelt's camp in the Mau hills, and the 200 native followers are joining with the Americans in celebrating the unusually good luck.

Colonel Roosevelt's gun brought three of them to earth, each on the first shot. Thus one of the president's fondest ambitions has been realized, and he is proud, too, that the fourth of the jungle kings fell before the rifle of his son Kermit, who, however, took three shots to kill his quarry.

Both fater and son are jubilant. It was their first lion hunt, and so magnificent a kill was far beyond their expectations.

The caravan started Thursday from the ranch of Sir Alfred Pease, on the Athi river, and proceeded slowly to the Mau hills. This range is open for wide areas, but in places is covered with dense growths, where game is plentiful. The first night in camp was without especial incident, no attempt being made to go after lions, although their call was heard now and then. At dawn the camp was astir, and the drive speedily organized.

The native beaters set out in all directions, under the instruction of the "headman," armed with all sorts of noise-making devices, which could not fail to arouse any game within earshot. Some of the beats proved blanks, but by nightfall no fewer than ten kinds of game had been bagged.

Kermit, during the greater part of the day, did more effective work with his camera than he did with his gun, he and other members of the party allowing Mr. Roosevelt the much-prized shots.

All of the lions were or normal size, and after the natives had dragged them together in the grass, they executed the usual dance around the trophies.

The party plans to go south, with the hope of bagging one or more giraffes. The chances are Mr. Roosevelt's good luck will continue, for natives and settlers from all sections report game as very plentiful.

GIRL MUST GIVE UP RING

Loses Property Right When She Breaks Promise to Marry.

Norfolk, Va., May 3.—Justice J. M. Denning held that a girl who refuses to marry a man must return her engagement ring without question. The court gave J. D. McFarland, a young hotel steward, judgment for a $55 diamond ring against Miss Lula S. Short, who, McFarland declared, had jilted him without cause.

The girl appealed for a jury trial on the ground that it was not an engagement ring, but a Christmas gift. Justice Denning said young men don't give $55 diamond rings just for Christmas presents.

THIRTY-DAY MARCH OVER BATTLEFIELDS

Army Officers Leave Fort Myer to Study Army Problems.

Washington, May 3.—A thirty-day march to be made by army officers over the battlefields of Virginia, for the purpose of studying problems of warfare, was begun when a long line of horses and troopers equipped with all the paraphernalia of the field, left Fort Myer, Va., under command of Major Eben Swift, of the general staff, on the way to Fredericksburg, Va., where the column will be met by thirty officers on May 7. Then the officers, who are members of the general staff of the army and of the army war college, will start over the route followed by Grant's army almost half a century ago.

The officers and troops will reach Richmond about May 16, and after skirmishes over many battlefields within a radius of a hundred miles will start on a return journey, reaching Fort Myer about June 3.

The column which left Fort Myer made a striking appearance. Eight large wagons filled with officers' baggage was in the van, and about a hundred horses and troopers were in line. At least two days will be spent at Fredericksburg in a study of the route of Grant's army.

SMARTEST GIRL NOT A SUFFRAGIST

Miss Mabel Sturtevant Would Be a Lawyer.

Columbia, Mo., May 3.—Miss Mabel Sturtevant, called by educators "the smartest girl in the world," is not a woman suffragist. "I think the home is the place for women," she said, at Columbia, where she will complete her study of languages preparatory to making a trip around the world as the winner of the Braun international scholarship.

All of her expenses will be paid out of a fund set aside by William E. Braun, a millionaire of Hamburg, Germany, who died five years ago, and whose will provided for the endowment of a scholarship to be competed for every three years by students in all parts of the world.

The first examinations under the terms of the will were held simultaneously in all civilized countries. Miss Sturtevant took the examination in St. Louis, and she easily distanced all her competitors, making a percentage of 94 out of a possible 100 in answering a list of questions covering the entire field of academic training. She says her ambition is to be a lawyer.

EDITORIAL.

HISTORICAL SOCIETY PLEA.

The Historical Society of Pennsylvania, Samuel Pennypacker, president, has joined in seeking to prevent the removal of the Liberty Bell from Independence Hall for a trip to Seattle exposition. To the mayor and councils of Philadelphia the society has addressed the following reasons against the removal of the bell:

You gentlemen are entrusted with the case and custody of this historic relic and we respectfully petition you to allow it to remain where it can be visited by the people who regard Independence Hall as the shrine of our Nation's birth, and who there look for the bell which proclaimed liberty throughout the land as the emblem of our independence.

In its present home it is most appropriately placed. It is the object of constant pilgrimages to this city by men and women from every country of the world, and its absence from its historic surroundings deprives it of its peculiar meaning.

To expose it to the damages incident to a long journey on railroads from possible collisions and other accidents is a hazardous undertaking.

To permit it to be sent to a far distant exhibition where it may be regarded simply as a show in common with the ordinary objects there exhibited is an undignified use to which to expose it.

The reverence for our historic past is growing in this land and that reverence will not be lessened by allowing the people of this country to know that at all times the Liberty Bell consecrated by its service on that fourth day of July, 1776, is to be and remain a part and parcel of that half which saw the beginning of independence, and which for a time was the seat of our National Government.

We appeal to your civic pride to resist any attempt to remove it from its old home and this choice Philadelphians to say that they have forever fixed in their city the most sacred relic of the Revolution.

PULPIT VAUDEVILLE.

The Chicago pastor, who sent out letters to a number of young men and women, asking their opinion of "the ideal wife" and "the ideal husband" in order to base sermons on the answers, must have some exceptionally patient individuals in his congregation if they are willing to stand for such nonsense, says the Pittsburg Gazette-Times.

The subject of matrimony offers a legitimate opportunity for sensible and instructive and helpful sermons, but it is not necessary to introduce the methods of cheap vaudeville, though these latter will certainly draw the crowds. Nine questions were sent to young women, and they were about as senseless as can be imagined. "Do you want your husband to be the head of the house?" was one. "Do you want him always to follow your bidding?" was another. The young women were also asked. "Do you care whether he loves you, or do you merely want a home?" and "Must he be a swell dresser?" Amid roars of laughter, the pastor read a letter from one young woman who declared her husband need not be wealthy, "but he must be able to buy me a $25 hat twice every season." Another girl replied with a poem almost as bad as Alfred Austin at his best.

This may be the kind of a church service to attract a certain class of silly young persons, but what good will it do them? Might they not just as well be spending their time in the nearest nickelodeon? The dignity and sacredness of matrimony are not enhanced by such exhibitions in the pulpit.

BUSINESS IS GROWING.

Altoona is rejoicing in an order for 44 locomotives to be built in the Pennsylvania Railroad shops. This insures employment for a considerable force of men. If business does not improve by leaps and bounds it is at least true that there is a pretty general and a tolerable steady movement toward excellent business conditions. The actual volume of trade is already large, and the sense of confidence in the future is steadily growing—Philadelphia Record.

Accident at Opera House

Monday night during the last appearance of the Toli troupe in their heavy weight juggling act, the lights in the second border burned out, causing the male member of the troupe to misjudge the descent of a 45lb cannon ball which he was juggling, the ball striking him on the head, and causing the curtain to be dropped on the act. Although very painful to Mr. Toli, no serious results are expected, and he appeared again on Tuesday night.

Heart Troubles

The heart may be weak just the same as the eyes, stomach or other organs. It often happens that a person is born with a weak heart. Then again disease, fevers, over-exertion, anxiety, nervousness, rheumatism, etc. weaken the heart. The result is shortness of breath, palpitation, pain in the heart, or in some of the nerves of the chest or abdomen. The heart should be strengthened with a tonic, and for this nothing equals Dr. Miles' Heart Cure.

"I had LaGrippe last fall as I thought in a mild form. I was weak, tired feeling, and short of breath; could hardly go about, and a good deal of the time sort of an asthmatic breathing and extremely nervous. I began taking Dr. Miles' Heart Cure and Nervine and now I feel so much better in every way. I am so thankful that I began taking this medicine, and shall not hesitate to tell others how much good it has done me."

TO HUNT WAY TO CURB COAL ROADS

Taft Will Study Commodities Clause Decision.

CABINET DISCUSSES TOPIC

The President Will Seek a Plan to Divorce Railroads From Mining and Suggest Means of Enforcing It.

Washington, May 5.—The decision of the supreme court of the United States in the case of the "commodities clause" of the Hepburn railroad rate law was discussed at the cabinet meeting.

President Taft repeatedly has announced that he intends to study the question of the control of corporations during the summer months and that he hopes to be in a position next December to submit definite views to congress on the subject.

The "commodities clause" decision undoubtedly will have a distinct bearing upon his considerations of the matter, and it was said that Mr. Taft will devote himself largely to the subject of recommending to congress the passage of legislation which will prevent the possibility of an evasion of the clause by the coal railroads.

Under the decision of the court the railroads can carry the coal of any company which they do not own outright. Through holding companies, however, they could control the mines and transportation of the output as though no law on the subject existed. To remedy the act in this respect will be the question to which the president will first direct his inquiry.

Mr. Taft also will have recommendations to make as to legislation tending to bring railroads and other corporations more definitely under government regulations.

"To clinch the Roosevelt policies" was one of the campaign slogans of Mr. Taft, and it is said the commodities clause decision will give him an early opportunity to make clear his position as president in regard to that class of legislation. In speeches the president recently has stated the necessity of amendments to the Sherman act.

EXPLOSION SCARED MINERS

Powder Smuggled Into Colliery Ignited by Trolley Spark.

Pittsburg, May 5.—An explosion of powder 2000 feet under ground in the Arona mine of the Keystone Coal company, at Arona, Westmoreland county, seriously injured seven miners and caused a panic among 200 others.

The men were riding into the mine on a train of electric cars, when there was a blinding flash, accompanied by a deafening roar. Believing it a gas explosion the men fled in confusion toward the entrance. Finding there was no evidence of gas, some returned and attended the injured men, who were taken to the hospital at Greensburg.

The use of powder is forbidden by the company, but it is believed a can of about five pounds was being smuggled into the mine and was ignited by a spark from the trolley.

SHOT HIMSELF IN FIELD

Suicide Had Editorial Clipping Headed "Cowardice Kills."

Hagerstown, Md., May 5.—Martin Schallman, of Philadelphia, committed suicide in an open field in the suburbs of Hagerstown by shooting himself through the heart with a revolver. Despondency is the reason assigned for the act. In a card case in his coat pocket was found an editorial clipped from a Philadelphia paper, the caption of the editorial being "Cowardice Kills."

Easton Garage Burned.

Easton, Pa., May 5.—Fire destroyed Clemens' automobile garage, entailing a loss of $15,000, including five automobiles. The fire started when a chauffeur in backing into the garage collided with the automobile of Harry G. Seip, a city councilman, braking the gasoline tank. The gasoline ignited and in an instant the entire interior of the establishment was ablaze.

One Hour In Jail For Killing Man.

Baton Rouge, La., May 5.—Elmore Williams, colored, was sentenced in DeSoto parish to one hour in prison for involuntary manslaughter. He received upon his discharge the customary $5 in cash, new suit of clothes and pair of shoes.

Countess of Orford Dead.

London, May 5.—The Countess of Orford, who was Miss Louise Melissa Corbin, daughter of D. C. Corbin, of New York, died suddenly at Wolterton Park, Norwich. She was married to Robert Horace Walpole, eighth earl of Orford, in 1888.

Smallpox Near Bradford, Pa.

Harrisburg, Pa., May 5.—The state health department was notified of three cases of smallpox that had developed near Bradford. The department directed that the customary precautions be taken.

Recognized by America.

Washington, May 5.—The American government has recognized Prince Ferdinand as czar of Bulgaria.

Are Drugs Necessary? Do Drugs Cure Disease? Do Drugs Assist Nature?

If people were born right and afterwards lived right, there would be no use for medicine. Every doctor knows this. So do other well-informed people.

One thing more. When a person lives wrongly, or acquires bodily weakness by heredity, medicine can do only very little. Medicine cannot cure him. Only charlatans claim that medicines will cure disease. Medicines may palliate symptoms. Medicines may urge the powers of Nature to resist disease. Medicines sometimes arouse the efforts of the human body to right itself against derangements.

This is the most that medicine can do.

A man accidentally puts his finger in the fire. Instinctively he wets his finger in his mouth, then blows on it for the cooling effect. This is no cure. He knows it very well. But it makes it feel better for the time being.

People eat unwisely. This produces dyspepsia or indigestion. The only rational cure is to eat correctly. Yet if a palliative is at hand the pains of indigestion can be mitigated, the throes of dyspepsia assuaged. The medicine cannot be said to have cured. It simply palliates disagreeable symptoms. The cure must come through right living.

MEDICINE PALLIATES SYMPTOMS

Take Peruna, for instance. No one claims Peruna is a cure for dyspepsia. But Peruna will stimulate the stomach to perform its function properly. Peruna will increase the flow of digestive fluids, without which digestion cannot be carried on at all. It will increase the relish of food, the appetite.

It is admitted that all this can be accomplished by right living, but there are so many people who either will not or do not know how to eat correctly that a tremendous amount of good can be done by the wise use of Peruna.

A stomach that has been frequently abused performs the function of digestion very lazily. Such a stomach allows the food to remain undigested for some time after it is swallowed. This leads to fermentation of the food. Sour stomach is the result. This goes on week after week, until the blood is poisoned with the product of fermentation. This condition is very apt to produce rheumatism, dyspepsia, neuralgia, gout, etc.

It is not claimed that Peruna will cure rheumatism. Nothing will cure rheumatism but correct living. But it is claimed that Peruna will assist a badly abused stomach to perform its work.

If a person would correct his habits, persist in right eating and temperate ways, undoubtedly the stomach would right itself, the blood would rid itself of the poison, and everything would be right. But as said before there are a multitude of people who will not or cannot adopt right methods of living. To such people Peruna is a boon. A dose before meals will assist the stomach to do its work. This prevents fermentation of the food, brings about normal digestion, and all the train of ills that follow indigestion disappear.

CORRECT HABITS PREVENT DISEASE.

In other words, Peruna is helpful to those who live badly, or those who have acquired some chronic weakness. Peruna does not cure, but it assists the powers of Nature to bring about a cure.

The whip does not increase the power of the horse to pull a load, but judiciously used it stimulates the horse to use his powers at the right time, without which he could not have pulled the load.

This illustrates the effect of Peruna, or any other good remedy upon the system. Taken at the right time, it calls forth the powers of the human system to meet the encroachments of disease, and thus cuts short, if not entirely ends, the diseased action.

No one should ever attempt to substitute medicine in the place of right living. In the end such an attempt will prove a disaster. But an occasional use of the right medicine at the right time is a godsend, and no reasonable person will undertake to deny it.

Those who know how to use Peruna find it of untold value. By and by the world will get wise enough so that through correct living no medicine at all will be needed. But that time has not arrived. In the meantime, while the world is approaching that perfection in which all medicine will be eliminated, Peruna is a handy remedy to have in the house.

Slight derangements of the stomach; slight catarrhal attacks of the liver, the throat, bronchial tubes, lungs or bowels; these attacks are sure to lead to grave diseases, and can be averted by the judicious use of Peruna.

Let us ask ourselves the question, how does Peruna assist Nature? How does Peruna even mitigate acquired diseases?

If we could but see the mucous membrane of a catarrhal stomach we would find it paler than it should be, poorly supplied with blood, and hence the peptic juices not furnished in sufficient abundance.

If food is taken into the stomach while it is in this condition, the stimulus of the food is not sufficient to cause the juices to be poured out in the quantity and quality to digest it. The food, therefore, ferments, becomes sour. Various gases are formed and poisonous materials, which not only disturb the stomach, but are absorbed by the stomach and intestines into the system, producing depression of the nervous system, derangement of the action of the heart, sallow complexion, biliousness, and the like.

PE-RU-NA ASSISTS NATURE'S EFFORTS.

If a dose of Peruna is taken just before eating, the action of the Peruna upon the inner coats of the stomach is stimulating. A flow of blood is brought to the parts, and an abundant quantity of gastric juice is poured out. The muscular walls of the stomach are temporarily strengthened to do their part, and thus quick and thorough digestion of the food is secured.

This sort of digestion nourishes the whole body, the stomach as well as the other organs. If the Peruna is continued judiciously for a few days the walls of the stomach are so strengthened and the circulation of the blood so regulated by the increased amount of nutrition received, that the Peruna need not be taken any longer. The stomach has simply been assisted temporarily, when it is able to take up its own function in a natural way. This is how it is that Peruna assists Nature.

Wouldn't you like to read a few unsolicited testimonials from people who have used Peruna, and who stand ready to confirm the above statements concerning it? If so, address the Peruna Drug Manufacturing Co., Columbus, Ohio, and we will send some prepaid.

The purpose of the convention is the exchange of views by the shellfish commissioners of the various states who are charged with the preservation of an important source of food supply.

Is very careful about her churn. She scalds it thoroughly after using, and gives it a sun bath to sweeten it. She knows that if her churn is sour it will taint the butter that is made in it. The stomach is a churn. In the stomach and digestive and nutritive tracts are performed processes which are almost exactly like the churning of butter. Is it not apparent then that if this stomach-churn is foul it makes foul all which is put into it?

The evil of a foul stomach is not alone the bad taste in the mouth and the foul breath caused by it, but the corruption of the pure current of blood and the dissemination of disease throughout the body. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery makes the sour and foul stomach sweet. It does for the stomach what the washing and sun bath do for the churn—absolutely removes every tainting or corrupting element. In this way it cures blotches, pimples, eruptions, scrofulous swellings, sores, or open eating ulcers and all humors or diseases arising from bad blood.

If you have bitter, nasty, foul taste in your mouth, coated tongue, foul breath, are weak and easily tired, feel depressed and despondent, have frequent headaches, dizzy attacks, gnawing or distress in stomach, constipated or irregular bowels, sour or bitter risings after eating and poor appetite, these symptoms, or any considerable number of them, indicate that you are suffering from biliousness, torpid or lazy liver with the usual accompanying indigestion, or dyspepsia and their attendant derangements.

The best agents known to medical science for the cure of the above symptoms and conditions, as attested by the writings of leading teachers and practitioners of all the several schools of medical practice, have been skillfully and harmoniously combined in Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. That this is absolutely true will be readily proven to your satisfaction if you will but mail a postal card request to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for a free copy of his booklet of extracts from the standard medical authorities, giving the names of all the ingredients entering into his world-famed medicines and showing what the most eminent medical men of the age say of them.

Howard.

The flood in Bald Eagle creek at this point on Thursday was the highest the water has been since 1889. Very little damage was done except to fences along the lowlands. The home of Theophilus Pletcher was surrounded by water the greater part of the day. The public roads were impassible on account of the depth and current of the water. It is believed that the fruit trees in blossom at the time of the freak weather were not injured much.

The Howard band is now holding frequent practice meetings and getting in shape for Memorial day. They appear on the streets occasionally and although they are few in number the music they furnish is much appreciated.

The article in last weeks Gazette relative to the Marsh Creek Fishing club caused a great deal of comment here as many of the citizens are opposed to such a scheme to get control of a stream stocked with trout from a state hatchery and believe that a charter should not be granted.

A party was given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Allison Friday afternoon in honor of the sixth birthday anniversary of their son Austin. The little folks had a very jolly time.

The chicken and waffle supper given by the Ladies Aid of the Reformed church Saturday evening was largely attended and everything disposed of before all their patrons had been supplied.

Russell Candy of Tyrone, was a visitor among his Howard relatives several days.

M. I. Gardner of Bellefonte, was in Howard on Friday.

Mrs. J. R. Pheasant, of Mt. Eagle, was a caller in Howard on Friday and when she learned that no evening train would be run she promptly took to the tiee and walked to her home.

Postponement

Owing to a change in the time for holding the entertainment for the benefit of the ambulance fund for the Bellefonte hospital from May 4th, as originally announced, to May 5th, the change having been made so as to a voice interference with some of the regularly established church functions in Bellefonte, it has been discovered that the Pharsonians, of the State College, whose numbers on the program are many have a conflicts in their dates.

They start on their spring trip on Wednesday May 5th making it next to an impossibility for them to appear here that night except at a greater sacrifice than those in charge of the benefit feel that they should be asked to make.

Accordingly in order that it may be mutually satisfactory to all, the date for the entertainment has been posponed until May 21st when it will be even better than was originally planned.

Athletic Relations Resumed

The Bellefonte Academy resumes athletic relations with Lock Haven Normal, Saturday, when the latter team will be the opponents of the strong local nine. Every thing promises a victory, although the Lock Haven team is consided exceptionally strong this year.

It is hoped that all our lovers of good clean baseball will be present to witness this battle royal. Help make this one game at least, a success, as this game decides the question of athletic relations between the Normal and the Academy.

High Pressure Days

Men and women alike have to work incessantly with brain and head to hold their own nowadays. Never were the demands of business, the wants of the family, the requirements of society, more numerous. The first effect of the praiseworthy effort to keep up with all these things is commonly seen in a weakened or debilitated condition of the nervous system, which results in dyspepsia, defective nutrition of both body and brain, and in extreme cases in complete nervous prostration. It is clearly seen that what is needed is what will sustain the system, give vigor and tone to the nerves; and keep the digestive and assimilative functions healthy and active. From personal knowledge, we can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla for this purpose. It acts on all the vital organs, builds up the whole system, and fits men and women for these high pressure days.

Suggestive Questions on the Sunday School Lesson by Rev. Dr. Linscott for the International Newspaper Bible Study Club.

May 9th, 1909.

Paul's First Missionary Journey.—Antioch in Pisidia. Acts xiii:13-52.

Golden Text—The word of the Lord was published throughout all the region. Acts xiii:49.

Verse 13—At what points had Paul and Barnabas touched, according to the last lesson?

What important events were narrated in the last lesson?

Look up your map and say where are Paphos, Perga, and Antioch in Pisidia.

Verse 14—Should a Christian always attend church on Sunday, if he has the opportunity, whether at home or abroad?

If a man does not act like a Christian when away from home, is he a real Christian when at home, no matter what his outward acts may be?

Verse 25—Are not our present day churches too stiff and formal, compared with the services in this synagogue?

Should not our services be sufficiently elastic to call upon others beside the pastor, to take part in them?

Verse 16—Were there many devout Jews and others, in those days, who feared God and were accepted of him, who had not embraced Christianity?

Should preachers and teachers in addressing non-Christion audiences, assume that there may be some of the number who really "fear God," notwithstanding that they may never have heard of Jesus? (This question must be answered in writing by members of the club.)

Verses 17-37—In addressing a hostile audience it is well for a speaker to commence with things which they believe in common, making them lead up to the main question what matters did Paul refer to, in carrying out this wise rule?

What points in this address of Paul's would you say were the most striking?

Verses 38 39—In what sense can God forgive sins through Jesus, that he could through the law of Moses?

Granted a future life of rewards and punishments, what question can compare in importance with the forgiveness of sins?

Are men sane who neglect to have their sins forgiven, seeing they admit the grave dangers of delay?

Verses 40-41—What do unconverted sinners need to "beware" of?

Why do sinners not accept of the salvation offered to them by Jesus?

Verses 42-43—What is it a sign of, when men want to hear the gospel preached?

Is there always an affinity between spiritual people, notwithstanding differences of opinion?

Does it do us all to be urged to be true to God?

Verses 44, 45—Does the story of the cross still draw crowds as it did at Antioch?

When one preacher is jealous at the good another preacher is doing, what is that a sign of?

Is a truly good man ever jealous of the good others are doing?

Verses 46-49—Is God more partial to one nationality than he is to another?

Does God ordain all those to eternal life who will accept of Jesus?

Are gladness and joy always in the hearts of those who love and serve God?

Verses 50-52—When the bad persecute the good which gets the real trouble?

High Waters Delay Trains.

(From Friday's Daily News)

The heavy rains of the past week have caused the rivers and creeks in this section to rise and overflow their banks and cause considerable damage besides delaying trains. The Bald Eagle Valley Division has suffered a great deal. The Mill Hall flats are flooded so that trains on the Bald Eagle cannot get in or out of Lock Haven. This morning they had to make an 8 mile circuit in order to get on the Bald Eagle line at Beech Creek. They ran down the main line from Lock Haven to Muckalhatton then came up the New York Central line to Beech Creek and then crossed onto their own track. The water in the Bald Eagle is within ten inches of being as high as the time of the '89 flood.

Trains on the Pennsylvania cannot get into Williamsport on account of the unsafe condition of the bridge just outside the city.

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of kidney's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by all dealers.

NEW TARIFF LAW ABOUT JUNE 15

Aldrich Confident Bill Will Pass Two Weeks Earlier.

TAFT WILL NOT VETO IT

The President Is Confident That Measure as It Comes From Conference Will Warrant Approval — Business Men Urge Senators to Pass the Bill.

Washington, May 3.—The slow progress made last week in the consideration of the tariff bill in the senate has discouraged some of the leaders who have been counting upon an adjournment of congress by June 15.

Senator Smoot, who is one of Senator Aldrich's lieutenants, said that it looked to him as though the bill would not get through the senate until June 20.

Mr. Aldrich, chairman of the finance committee, does not agree with his colleague from Utah and is sticking to his prediction that the bill will be passed and signed by June 1. Those who know Mr. Aldrich's habit of putting out optimistic predictions give two weeks' leeway to his forecast and expect adjournment on June 15.

A number of the middle west Republicans want to go on record in favor of radical revision of schedules, as Senator Nelson has done on the lumber schedule. After they have made their speeches it is expected that the bill will be disposed of rapidly by paragraphs.

Business Men Urge Speed.

The truth is that senators are hearing from business and manufacturing interests in their states in no uncertain way urging them to pass the bill, even if it does not meet with universal approval, and adjourn.

The tone of the telegrams and letters that are coming to the senators is all for a settlement of the tariff. They declare that uncertainty is creating more damage than can be done by tariff schedules. The business of the country, they say, wants the tariff settled, and it will adjust itself to the schedules, no matter what they may be. There is confidence that there will be no ruinous cuts by the friends of protection, so the cry is "Pass the tariff bill and let the country get down to business."

No Veto by Taft.

This sentiment throughout the country, it is understood, is having a good deal of effect upon President Taft. The talk about the latter vetoing the bill that passes if it does not meet with his ideas of what the tariff schedules should be is all nonsense. Men who saw him and talk with him frequently on this subject know that he has no specific ideas of what the rates should be and trusts to congress to decide them.

Mr. Taft, like his predecessor, Mr. Roosevelt, is guided by the views of others as to what revision can be made in the rates and will not undertake to say for himself what they should be. He is listening to all sides and is sometimes swayed by the radical tariff revisionists, or gives them the impression that he is, and then the stories go out that he will veto the bill if it passes in its present shape.

The president knows that the bill will be completed in conference and he believes that when that body gets through the measure will be in general keeping with party pledges and with the popular demand for revision without injury to business. The president does not want the suspension kept up any longer than is absolutely necessary. He has been greatly impressed with the estimate made that the general business of the country, because of contracts delayed, manufactures checked and future work held in abeyance on account of the uncertainty regarding tariff rates, is suffering to the extent of $10,000,000 a day.

For over 40 years Dr. Pierce's Family Medicines have kept the lead and still stand in the front rank as curative agents.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Never Suspect it.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a brick dust sediment, or settling, stringy or milky appearance often indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back are also symptoms that tell you the kidneys and bladder are out of order and need attention.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed, that Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fulfills almost every wish in correcting rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. Corrects inability to hold water and scalding pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often through the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest because of its remarkable health restoring properties. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in fifty-cent and one-dollar sizes.

SUGAR TRUST SETTLES CLAIMS

Pays $2,134,411 to End Fraudulent Weighing Case.

APPROVED AT WASHINGTON

Sugar Company Officers Convinced by Government's Evidence That Frauds Actually Existed During the Past Twelve Years — Pays Interest as Well.

Washington, April 30.—The attorney general and secretary of the treasury approved a settlement between the American Sugar Refining company and the government of all the latter's claims on account of fraudulent weighing of sugar. The total amount involved is over $2,000,000.

The weighing was at the sugar company's refinery. The sugar company pays in full the recent judgment for the penalty of $134,411, awarded against it by a jury in the case tried in the federal court last March, together with interest, and agrees to take no appeal from that judgment. It also pays into the United States treasury $2,000,000, representing the duties which have been unpaid during the past twelve years, owing to these practices, $1,239,088 of this amount having already been paid in under protest to Collector Loeb on his re-liquidation of the duties upon the cargoes entered at the Havemeyer & Elder refineries, between 1901 and 1907, when the alleged frauds were discovered.

The management of the sugar company have become convinced by the government's evidence at the trial last March and by the resulting verdict of the jury, that the alleged frauds actually existed at the Havemeyer & Elder docks, and soon afterward they announced to Mr. Stimson, who represented the government, their readiness to repay to the government such amounts as could be shown to have been withheld by reason of these frauds.

This settlement does not affect the criminal prosecution of the individuals charged with being responsible for the perpetration of these irregularities, and it is declared at the department of justice that these prosecutions will be pressed to a finish by the government.

GIRL BABY HEIR TO DUTCH THRONE

All Holland Rejoicing Over Birth of a Princess.

MOTHER AND CHILD WELL

Heralds Clad in Ancient Dutch Dress Announced the Event at the Public Squares In The Hague—The City Gaily Decorated.

The Hague, May 1.—Wilhelmina, queen of the Netherlands, gave birth to a daughter. The condition of her majesty is satisfactory, the infant princess is doing well and Holland is celebrating the happy event from one end of the country to the other with expressions of joy such as seldom have been witnessed among this placid people.

The political significance of the occurrence lies in the fact that there is now an heir to the throne of the Netherlands, a circumstance that very greatly enhances the chances of the country for continued independence.

Every town and village in Holland is celebrating the long-awaited birth of a child to her majesty, who was married to Prince Henry, of Mecklenburg-Schwerin, Feb. 7, 1901.

The first person outside the royal palace to hear the news was a party of workmen passing the residence of the queen on their way to work. The cheers they raised were the signal for the general rejoicings. Flags and bunting that had been held in readiness were unfurled, and the city took on holiday attire.

Heralds, accompanied by trumpeters, clad in ancient Dutch dress, made the rounds of the city, halting at the principal squares and other suitable spots to make, after due fanfares, the following proclamation:

"Fellow Citizens—With great joy we announce the news that her majesty, by the grace of God has been delivered of a princess.

"The entire population of The Hague shares the feelings of deep joy of the Dutch people, and is thankful for the blessing bestowed upon the royal house and upon the country. May the happy event strengthen the bonds uniting the Netherlands and the House of Orange. Long live the queen. Long live the Princess of Orange."

THREE BOYS DROWNED

Whining Dog Gave First News of the Triple Tragedy.

New York, May 3.—An overturned boat, bobbing up and down in a cove off Freeport, L. I., with sail gone and rigging entangled, told another story of a Long Island sound tragedy.

Three boys, David Gultz, sixteen years old; Henry Ludlow, a year older, and William Kunz, fifteen years old, set out Saturday afternoon on a clamming expedition. Night came and passed and they did not return, but a shepherd dog which they had taken with them crawled whining to the home of young Kunz in the darkness. Search was then started, which resulted in the finding of the captized boat.

CHANGE AT NAVAL ACADEMY

Captain Charles J. Badger, Superintendent, to Be Relieved.

Washington, May 3. — Captain Charles J. Badger, superintendent of the naval academy, is to be detached from his present position next month, not later than the 15th. His removal is made at his own request, for the officer has tired of teaching the young Deweys and Schleys and Sampsons and wishes to return to the sea.

Captain Badger has made in enviable record as head of the Annapolis institution. His successor has not yet been announced.

VAIN HUNT FOR MISSING CHILDREN

Little Boy and Girl Strangely Disappear.

Latrobe, Pa., May 2. — Posses of neighbors who have been searching for Emma and Alvin Blaugh, seven and five years old, who disappeared mysteriously Friday afternoon from the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael J. Blaugh, have about given up hope of finding them. The little ones were playing in the barn yard in full view of their own and neighboring homes and disappeared within a minute after they had been seen at play.

A circus exhibited here that day, and the circus trains were searched, the woods were scoured for miles and a creek which flows near the Blaugh home was dragged. Hundreds of searching parties are looking for the children, but not a clue has been discovered. The theories advanced as to their fate include kidnapping, drowning, being lost in the woods and falling into some of the numerous holes caused by cave-ins in abandoned coal mines.

The Hive of the Ladies of the Maccabees an Assured Success.

Mrs. Bell Doughty had a very nice meeting Friday evening in Maccabee Hall in the McClain Block in perfecting her organization of the Hive of the Ladies of the Maccabees she is meeting with a good deal of success in her work and is well liked by the people she has come in contact with so far. She is a well educated and talented woman and has quite a reputation throughout the country as a composer of patriotic songs and the music accompaniment also that goes with them. Mrs. Doughty is quite a musical artist with the piano and has given several delightful evening entertainments in some of the homes of the people of the town.

The organization of the Hive here has not been made complete as yet only a few of the officers having been elected so far. The insurance feature is appealing to many women for something of that kind is a very scarce article in the fact of there not being many organizations that will give women beneficial insurance. The rates are as low as they can possibly be made that are consistent with safety. President Taft says about fraternal insurance.

"Realize the power which these fraternal associations exercise for the good of the members and their protection in sickness and the protection at their death of those depending upon them. I sincerely hope that the efforts of all may be exerted in perfecting and perpetuating a system by which the two commendable purposes of all such societies may be fully achieved".

Another meeting will be held on next Tuesday evening in the Maccabee Hall when some more new members will be obligated and the principles of the order thoroughly explained and exemplified.

Mrs. Doughty expects to be able to constitute the Hive and install the officers who will be elected in a few weeks the prospects looking bright for a tent of fifty members at the constitution. Some will join the order socially and many will take the insurance feature who do not care for the social or business end of it and both wishes can be accommodated in the Hive.

United in Marriage.

On Thursday evening at the residence of Dr. Thomas L. Hazzard, Montgomery avenue, North side, Pittsburg, Mrs. Chilion W. Hazzard, of Monongahela, Pa., and Adie Allen Stevens, Esq., of Tyrone, were married by the Rev. Joseph Hamilton, of Washington, Pa., a relative of the bride. The wedding although quiet, was handsomely appointed, the drawing room having decorations of American Beauty and La France roses, with white carnations, daisies and bride roses in the dining room. Dr. Hazzard gave his sister-in-law away. The bride wore a princess robe of pearl satin, trimmed with silver embroidery, chiffon and lace. A diamond pendant was her only ornament and she carried violets and sweet peas.

Mrs. Stevens was the widow of Col Chilion W. Hazzard, for many years a power in the Monongahela valley and proprietor and editor of the Monongahela Republican. Since his death in 1901 she has successfully conduced the Hazzard company's newspaper affairs and other publications, also occupying an important place in church, charitable, literary and social circles. Mr. Stevens is an able and successful attorney of Central Pennsylvania. He is vice-president of the First National bank of Tyrone and actively identified with many industrial and commercial enterprises of this place. Mr. and Mrs. Stevens have the best wishes of hosts of friends in Tyrone. They will be at home at "The Bungalow," the beautiful summer cottage of Mr. Stevens at eleven's park, Tyrone, after June 15.—Tyrone Herald.

College Men Desert Books to Shovel Dirt

Laying aside the study of the Anabias and the Aeneid, students of Ursinus college, with pick, hoe and shovels did the work of day laborers. The textbook was discarded for the dinner pail. Greek and cubs roots were forgotten in the absorbing search for roots of another kind, and the class in astronomy came back to earth.

The necessity of having a level athletic field was the occasion. The faculty was prevailed upon to give the students a "holiday." It proved a vacation which brought aching backs and tired arms, but when night came the field was level as a floor.

During the hours of labor, several professors visited the field to watch progress. Immediately they were impressed. Professor Haines, head of the history department, handled a shovel. Professor Henckles manipulated a rake. Dr. Caldwell, who lectures on philosophy, removed white cuffs and picked stones. It was a great day for Ursinus. Even the "coeds" helped. They made lemonade and passed it around.

Watch For the Wireless Fakir.

Never has an invention of real merit been given to the world but a fakir rushes in with a device which is an infringement, from a moral and at times from a legal viewpoint. This has been the custom from the times radios have been written, and the more perfect and useful the new device the more persistent and aggressive is the buzzing of the insect who evades as long as possible the direct legal issue, yet foists upon a confiding public either a Chinese copy of the real thing, or a fake, pure and simple, designed primarly to deceive.

Recognizing the superior ability, and acknowledging the premier position in the world of wireless held by Dr. Lee de Forest, the Society of Wireless Telegraph Engineers at the recent meeting in the headquarters at Boston, Mass., elected him President of the organization for the ensuing year. The growing importance of wireless as shown by recent events, has given this organization a peculiar position in the commercial as well as the scientific world. As Dr, de Forest's energies have been devoted for almost a generation to the invention and exploitation of wireless devices, he is peculiarly fitted to fill this important office.

The eminent position held by Dr. de Forest has naturally been a pinnacle toward which the eyes of imitators and charlatans have been raised. It has been impossible heretofore to stop every charlatan who has designs upon the bank balances of a too credulous public and who has surreptitiously stolen ideas which have been evolved in Dr. de Forest's laboratory.

When Marconi's invention of wireless telegraphy was given to a waiting world, scarcely more than a decade ago, Dr. de Forest had been already experimenting for several years on a system of wireless which was entirely different from that of Marconi. When this invention was made public, the cumbersome system of Marconi, with its unreliable coherer, was quickly supplanted by the more rapid and satisfactory device of the American. Since that time, the science of wireless has gone forward rapidly. Dr. de Forest has secured more than one hundred patents of wireless appliances and devices, which are now used by the Radio Company in their wireless telegraph and telephone system. Some of these devices are being used by other self-styled inventors, but only the unsophisticated are deceived, and they, only for a brief period.

Dr. de Forest's latest and greatest invention, which will doubtless revolutionize the entire world of wireless communication, is considered by experts so far superior to any other existing method that the investor is acknowledged to be the premier scientist in his chosen field in this country. Associated with Dr. de Forest in scientific research are Dr. George Seibt, acknowledged to be the premier wireless expert of the old world, and E. A. Trinks, M. E., Ph. D., whose inventions have already attracted attention throughout Europe. Dr. de Forest, in accepting the office of President of the Society of Wireless Telegraph Engineers, gracefully acknowledged the honor conferrep upon him and said he would endeavor to foster the interests of the society as far as lay in his power.

The presidency of this organization carries with it the highest honors that can be conferred upon a worker in the wireless art.

This is the most dangerous time of the year to catch cold, and it is the hardest time to cure it. If you should take a cold, a few doses of kidney's Laxative Cough Syrup will act very promptly. Its laxative principle cures the cold by driving it from the system by a gentle but natural action of the bowels. Children especially like Kennedy's Laxative Cough Syrup, as it tastes so good nearly like maple sugar. It is sold by all dealers.

Soft Coal Miners Reject Cut in wage

The executive board of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, at a meeting held in Clearfield Friday rejected the demands made in Philadelphia last week for a reduction in the wages of miners working in the central Pennsylvania bituminous field, following the conference held in Philadelphia some days ago between President Patrick Gilday, Secretary-tresurer Gilbert and committee representing the bituminous operators.

It was given out that the operators have requested some relief, to that they might be able to meet the prices made by competitors. It develops that the operas demanded a reduction of wages from 66 cents a ton to 55 cents a ton. The executive board, after devoting considerable time to discussing the matter, decided to refuse the demands, and word to that effect has been sent to the operators. It may be that the operators will retaliate by closing some of the mines.

Dr. R. L. Weston of Parkersburg, W. Va., who has a long and successful experience both as a General Secretary and Physical Director in Y. M. C. A. work has accepted a call to undertake the work in the Bellefonte Association.

His recommendations are very strong both from the State Committee and the associations where he has labored. He will come to Bellefonte in a few days and should receive a hearty welcome and worthy encouragement. The Directors of the Y. M. C. A. of Bellefonte feel that they have secured the services of a man who will make his influence felt in the religious life of the community.
